BIANCO LASSA

Defined as 'white gold', Bianco Lassa is a precious fine-grained Italian marble, with a compact structure and a white background with subtle veins in toasted and greyish tones. Originally from the Dolomites (the pink mountains), this marble stands out for its simple, elegant and refined image and for its versatility, since it can dress spaces of contemporary style or markedly classic. Due to its robustness and beauty, this marble is a protagonist in the neoclassical architecture of large monuments in European cities such as Vienna, Munich and Berlin.

Definido como 'oro blanco', Bianco Lassa es un precioso mármol italiano de grano fino, con una estructura compacta y un fondo blanco con sutiles vetas en tonos tostados y grisáceos. Originario de las Dolomitas (las montañas rosas), este mármol sobresale por su imagen sencilla, elegante y refinada y por su versatilidad, ya que puede vestir espacios de estilo contemporáneo o marcadamente clásicos. Por su robustez y belleza, este mármol es protagonista en la arquitectura neoclásica de grandes monumentos de ciudades europeas como Viena, Munich y Berlín.
